

- ❖ Support schools and youth clubs in their efforts to keep guns, knives, and other weapons from menacing the everyday lives of children and teens. Encourage children to report any weapons they know about, in or near school, to school staff or the police.
- ❖ Look around to see what happens to young people after school hours. Are there supervised programs for younger children? Are there opportunities for teens and preteens to work with children, get or give help with homework, tackle neighborhood problems, or learn art, music, sports, or computer skills? In many areas, after-school programs are located in schools themselves.
- ❖ Start a discussion of neighborhood views on weapons in the home, children playing with toy weapons, children and violent entertainment, and how arguments should be settled. A PTA meeting, an informal social gathering or a Neighborhood Watch meeting could provide opportunity.
- ❖ Learn your state and local laws on firearms. Insist that these laws be enforced vigorously but fairly. Support police, prosecutors, judges, and other local officials who enforce laws designed to prevent gun violence.

When we talk about violence, we can't ignore weapons. Nine out of ten murders involve a weapon. Most robberies involve the use of a weapon, most frequently a handgun.

One in seven teens have reported carrying a weapon - like a bat, club, gun, or knife - as some time to protect themselves. Weapons make violence more deadly and less personal.

Reduce The Risk

- ❖ Think long and hard about having weapons, especially firearms, in your home.
- ❖ Look at other ways to protect yourself and your home. Invest in top-grade locks, jamming devices for doors and windows, a dog, or an alarm system. Start or join a Neighborhood Watch. Check with the police, the YMCA/YWCA, or the recreation department about a self-defense class.
- ❖ If you choose to own firearms - handguns, rifles, or shotguns - make sure they are safely stored. That means unloaded, trigger-locked, and in a locked gun case or pistol box, with ammunition separately locked. Store keys out of the reach of children, away from weapons and ammunition. Check frequently to make sure this storage remains secure.
- ❖ Obtain training from a certified instructor in firearms safety for everyone in the home. Make sure its kept current.
- ❖ Teach your children what to do if they find a firearm or something that might be a weapon - Stop, Don't Touch, Get Away, and Tell a Trusted Adult.

Stop Violence

- ❖ Show children how to settle arguments or solve problems without using words or actions that hurt others. Set the example by the way you handle everyday conflicts in the family, at work, and in the neighborhood. Don't forget that common courtesies like "please," "thank you," and "excuse me" help ease tensions that can lead to violence.

- ❖ Discourage name-calling and teasing. These can easily get out of hand, moving all too quickly from "just words" to fists, knives, and even firearms. Teach children that bullying is wrong and take their fears about bullies seriously.
- ❖ Take a hard look at what you, your family, and your friends watch and listen to for entertainment - from action movies and cop shows to video games and music lyrics. How do the characters solve problems? Do they make firearms and other violence appear exciting, funny or glamorous? Are the real-life consequences of violence for victims and families clear?
- ❖ Stick with friends and family who steer clear of violence and drugs. And encourage your children to do the same. Research shows use of alcohol and other drugs are closely linked with violence, including the use of guns and other weapons.

Take Action In The Community

- ❖ Be sure you know where and how to report potentially violent situations or concerns about conditions in the neighborhood that could lead to violence. Ask your police department for help in identifying what to report, when, to whom, and how.
  - ❖ Consider organizing an event that lets people turn in weapons, or even objects that might be mistaken for real weapons, in exchange for books, coupons from local merchants, toys, or simply the satisfaction of making the community safer.
